

Victorian Mourning Traditions and Customs

During the Victorian era from 1837 to 1901, grieving families often engaged in elaborate customs to commemorate their dearly departed. The Union Forge Heritage Association will explore these long forgotten, and often macabre, traditions and customs with Victorian Mourning themed house tours at our historic Joseph Turner House.

Visitors will be greeted by costumed docents and invited to take a step back in time into a Victorian household in mourning. Topics of social expectations, attire, photography, decor and more will be explored and experienced in each decorated room.

October 9th and 16th

Tours start: 2:00 / 2:30 / 3:00 / 3:30

Admission: $10/person

Reservations recommended to guarantee admittance. Contact us at:
