About The Auction

This Auction is inspired by a 1778 “Confiscation Auction” of the property of British loyalists Christopher and John Vought, who left their homestead in December 1776 to serve in the British Army during the American Revolution. All their property was confiscated and sold at auction by Americans in 1778.

All proceeds benefit the 1759 Vought House: see www.1759voughthouse.org
